Join this small FAM to experience the true Cajun culture and how it makes Louisiana so unique.

Start off in Lafayette, the heart of Cajun Country. By day you'll explore the Atchafalaya Basin on a swamp tour. The nation's largest freshwater swamp, the Atchafalaya is among the most culturally rich and ecologically varied regions in the United States. The American-Indian word for "long river," the Atchafalaya is home to fields of sugarcane and cotton, ancient live oaks and towering cypress. Alligators, raccoons and bears roam the land while over 270 species of birds take to the skies. By night, you'll hit the dance floor and learn to two-step to traditional Cajun music at one of the city's many dance halls.

From Lafayette you'll head west to Lake Charles – Louisiana's Playground. Along the way you'll stop for a sip of the sweet life with Bayou Rum. Home to vast amounts of sugarcane, it's no surprise Louisiana is making a name for itself in distilling – especially rum. Hold a baby alligator and learn about their role in Louisiana's ecosystem. From there, journey along the Creole Nature Trail All-American Road. Marshland, Gulf of Mexico beaches, birding, fishing, and more, all await you here, along with some of the most glorious views that you'll remember forever.
